It's not often that we run 60-plus images of someone's home, but in the case of incredibly talented S.F.-based artist RACHEL KAYE, it seems justified. Thanks to the creative sensibilities of Kaye and her husband, fellow artist JAY NELSON, every nook and cranny of their beachside abode is filled with quirky finds, standout art, and handmade touches. Complete with a backyard studio and unique outdoor space (there's not only an outdoor shower, but an outdoor tub), it's all downright dreamy, as are the three folks who live there. Here, Rachel (plus her 3-year-old daughter Romy and a baby girl on the way!) give us a little tour, while talking style, motherhood, career, and more.
